MAG254 TV Set-Top Box

This is a new generation of high-resolution and very small size set-top box, which will turn any digital TV to a smart TV. You won't need to buy an expensive smart TV model. This device can also work well with older or low-cost digital TV models equipped with HDMI connector. Free HDMI cable is included to any selected package. Also for your convenience there is a programmable remote control, which at the same time lets to control both devices your TV and the TV Set-Top box.

Advantages of using MAG254

- After purchasing the IPTV Set-Top Box you will be able to watch Latvijas.tv broadcasts directly from your television.
- This device will work well with older or low-cost digital TV models equipped with HDMI connector.
- Unique programmable remote control which at the same time lets to control both devices your TV and the TV Set-Top box.
- HDMI 1.4A connection for superior quality.
- Enables to use resource-intensive interactive applications and support 3D-video.
- Other Services include: YouTube, Picasa, Weather Forecast, Media Player and USB support, Games.

Programmable remote control

Each TV set-top box is equipped with a unique programmable TV remote control. This is unique because you don't need to combine TV remote control commands, inputting the different manufacturers' identification codes. You can simply copy any TV remote control button signal. We recommend using this remote control's programmable buttons to turn the TV on or off, to change the signal source, to control the audio level. By using copy method to program this remote control, you won't need multiple remote controls to watch TV online.

Internet access

MAG254 TV set-top box can be connected to the Internet in several ways: regular UTP (CAT) cable or a USB wireless (Wi-Fi) connection. If your TV is already connected to the Internet cable you won't need an additional wireless (Wi-Fi) connection, otherwise we recommend purchasing a wireless (Wi-Fi) connection LogiLink.

Digital HDMI connection

MAG254 TV set-top box is connected to the TV with digital HDMI cable. This connection was started to use in TV since 2006. We want you to have the best quality of broadcasting and not recommending using an analog cable, therefore we are adding free HDMI cable to the TV equipment packaging.
